State of Georgia, Jasper County

On this twenty-ninth day of April in the year Eighteen hundred and thirty-four, formally appeared before the Supreme Court of said County, John Davidson, a resident of said County and State, age seventy two years and being first duly sworn according to Law, doth in his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7th 1832. That he entered the service of the United States in the year Seventeen hundred and seventy seven in the month of August, in Union District South Carolina, as a volunteer under the following named officers to wit. Col. Thomas Brannon [sic, Thomas Brandon], Maj. Benjamin Jolly and Capt. Robert Pharis [sic, Robert Faris]. That he marched first to Smith's Ford on Broad River and from there down to the place called the Waxhaws and from there to Francis' Ford on Broad River, all this time he was engaged as a volunteer and employed against the Tories. He returned home to Union District in the month of September having been gone about one month. Shortly after this, he thinks in the month of October following, he was drafted as a militia man in the company of Capt. Faris & Col. Brandon's Regiment and thereupon he marched up to [?], the residence of Col. (afterwards Genl.) Pickens [Andrew Pickens], and from that place in company with other troops, viz. the Regiments under command of Col. Roebuck and Col. Elijah Clarke. The whole with his own Regiment, commanded by Genl. Pickens marched to Saluda River and was there in detached parties sent about in an uncertain sort of service in order to keep down the Tories between the Broad and Saluda Rivers and were kept engaged in this way until the arrival of General Green [sic, Nathanael Greene] & his army in that part of the Country. And that his Regiment joined the forces under Genl Green then having his Head Quarters at the High Hills of Santee. That Genl Green ordered a detachment to be formed of five men from each captains' company and all under the command of Col. Roebuck & Lieut. Col. Farr to proceed to Orangeburg C. H. for the purpose of guarding with greater security the jail at that place in which were confined a number of prisoners. That he was one of the five men taken from the company of Capt. Faris and was placed under the immediate command of Lieut. Latimer of Capt. Thompson's company and then marched to Orangeburg C. H. where he remained in the aforementioned service for the span of two months. The prisoners having been sent by Order of Genl Green to his Head Quarters he was verbally discharged by Col. Roebuck at Orangeburg and then returned home. In the fall of the year 1780 he was ordered out still a drafted militia man to join Genl Morgan's Troops on Pacolet River, he serving in the Company of Capt. Faris, Col. Brandon's Regiment, the first Lieut. of said Company being James Crawford and the second John Storey. That about this time he and fourteen others of Capt. Faris' Company fell in with a detachment of Tories commanded by Cunningham, the celebrated Tory captain, about Thirty in number, and in their skirmish the following individuals of his company were killed, to wit. Thomas Binon, Edward Armstrong & Patrick Harbison. That he marched in the Regiment & company above stated to Pacolet River where they joined the army of Genl Morgan and immediately the whole body marched to the place called the Cowpens where Genl Morgan halted and remained until the Battle at that place which occurred on the 17th day of January 1781. That in this battle he received two saber cuts, one on the head and the other on the right hand. He remembers to have seen at this fight Col. William Washington, Genl Pickens (& Col. Howard of the Regular Army). That on the day after the battle the army under command of Genl Morgan proceeded to cross Broad River and marched thence to Salisbury N. C. Here the militia was discharged by Genl Morgan verbally. That he remained at this place after the departure northward of the force under command of Genl Morgan for about one month in which time the wounds on his head and hand were nearly cured and then returned to Union District, South Carolina having been absent about five months. That in the month of September following under Capt., (formerly Lieut.) James Crawford of the company formerly commanded by Capt. Faris, Col, Brandon's Regiment, he marched, Lieut. Col. Farr then commanding the Regiment - & Maj. Young, assistant commander, to Bobo's on Tyger River where they rendezvoused two days and were joined by other Troops and all then marched to a fort on the Congaree River where was deposited some of Genl Green's ammunition, stores & provisions. That they remained at that place 'til the latter part October 1781 when intelligence arrived of the capture of Lord Cornwallis' army at York Town three days after which they were verbally discharged by Lieut. Col. Farr and then returned home to Union District having been absent on this occasion about two months. The whole of his time of service was three years at least. He hereby relinquishes any claim whatever to a pension or an annuity except the present & he declares that his name is not on the pension roll of any agency in any state.

Sworn to and subscribed the day and year aforesaid.
